

As a result of increased demand for Quest Group's services we now seek talented graduates to strengthen our team in Stockholm

Management Consulting • Corporate Finance • Industrial Ventures

Quest can offer you a career in the exciting professional services space where Management Consulting and Corporate Finance interact to create innovative and result-oriented solutions for our clients. This valuable mix of expertise cross-fertilizes into our third business segment; early stage Industrial Ventures. This is where we practice what we preach – for example, in one of our ventures we are actually building MW-scale solar parks in China and India rather than recommending it in PowerPoint presentations.

We offer an entrepreneurial environment where you will be a valuable part of the team

As a Quest professional; our dedication to client satisfaction is exceptional and this is expressed in everything we do. We aim to provide stronger results and greater client satisfaction than any of the other existing top tier players.

As an analyst you will primarily be working within the management consulting segment, practicing all the methods and tools necessary to excel in the area of professional services. You will have a steep learning curve by working with selected individuals with experience from top management and investment banking firms.

We offer you an attractive compensation package with the unique opportunity to become a shareholder in the firm early on in your career.

We seek outgoing individuals with an analytical mindset and exceptional drive

- Are you an outgoing individual, who enjoys working with people in challenging situations, and have excellent academic records as well as other unique experiences?
- You are willing to travel and work with projects “off-site” both domestic and international
- Are you eager to solve challenging tasks and to work directly with senior management individuals?
- Do you value details, quality, and see every task as way to improve your performance?
- Do you want to quickly take on large responsibilities in a supporting environment with a short decision making structure?
- Do you value an entrepreneurial environment both within Quest and as we build new industrial ventures?

Then Quest is right for you! We are continuously looking for excellent people to join our expanding team. Up until summer 2011 we intend to hire two analysts. Please send your application in English to recruitment@questgroup.se before November 30th 2010. Attach CV, grades from university and upper secondary school as well as other references of choice. If you have any questions please contact Erik Sävenstrand at +46 70 479 84 40.
